

Dear Friends,

15 PRAYERS

As pupils start to return to their classrooms today, the challenges that schools face changes yet again. On the first Monday of the month, we write a separate email to all Catholic primary and secondary schools to offer free resources that will support them, and today we are sharing our 15 Prayers During School Closures... and as they re-open. Based on prayers produced by the Catholic Church, the Church of England and from various other sources, the prayers can be freely accessed by the following the links below.

OUR SOCIAL MEDIA ACCOUNTS

We have recently become more active on our Twitter and Facebook accounts, thanks to some dedicated social media engagement from Clare Williams who posts our messages, and some skilful editing work from Joe O'Brien who creates our social media videos. It has been interesting to see how schools have been particularly invested in our Collective Worship resources during lockdown, freely sharing them with children and their families. Have a look here to see some of the interaction on Twitter:

PRODUCTIONS COMING UP

We have a big challenge on our hands: to produce the next and final phase of our "Life to the Full" programme of resources during lockdown! We have to produce a large amount of filmed content - including drama, presenter-led teaching and personal testimonies - in the most restrictive of work environments. This requires a lot of people to think creatively and we rely on the grace of God to enable the work if it is His will. So please keep this in prayer, if you can. Here's an image of Nathan and Mairi who we hope to bring back as presenters for the next phase of "Life to the Full".

FINALLY...

Last month, I told you that we launched our E-Learning Programme for teachers about the new statutory changes to RSHE from September 2020. I'm delighted that over 5,000 teachers have enrolled on the course, and over 3,000 have already successfully completed the course and received their certificate from Bishop Marcus Stock, the Chair of the Catholic Education Service. I'm really grateful to the dedicated team who delivered the project so well.

Thanks for your time and support.

Warmest wishes,

Martin
